Oregon Department of Transportation begins process to remove Delta Park bottleneck

The Oregon Department of Transportation is holding an open house from 4 to 8 p.m. Monday, April 28, to share ideas on eliminating the southbound I-5 bottleneck from Delta Park to Lombard Street.

ODOT proposes to widen I-5 to three southbound lanes in the current two-lane stretch, widen medians and shoulders, and realign freeway ramps.

The proposal being developed by ODOT is the result of Portland/Vancouver I-5 Transportation and Trade Partnership recommendations.

Planning for the project is expected to continue through 2004, with construction beginning during the summer of 2005 at the earliest.

The open house will be in the Kenton Firehouse, 8105 N Brandon Avenue, Portland. For further information, call toll free, (866) 788-3945.

All you ever wanted to know about Clark County in $20 handbook; free on-line

The 2003 Clark County Population & Economic Handbook, now available from the county Department of Assessment & GIS for $20, plus tax and shipping, is also available on the county's website at www.clark.wa.gov.

The handbook, which is updated annually, has the most recent information from the 2000 census, including economic and housing information for Clark, Kilckitkat and Skamania counties and contains comparable facts for the surrounding Portland-Vancouver metropolitan area and the state of Washington.

In addition, the handbook reports on the most recent federal, state and local statistical data.
