Vancouver City Charter review time: 15 to be appointed to review committee

Applications for 15 positions on the Vancouver Charter Review Committee are being accepted by Mayor Royce Pollard's office through Friday, Oct. 31.

The committee is charged with an independent review of the current city charter and is empowered to recommend changes to the city council.

Changes recommended by the committee and approved by the city council would be placed before voters next year.

The committee will begin its work in January.

Charter Review Committee applicants must be residents of the city. For an application or further information, call Carol Hansen, 696-8001.

Planners' continued hearing on county growth management update starts early

The Clark County Planning Commission's continued hearing on proposed updates of the county Growth Management Plan begins at 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 2, in the county elections and auto licensing building, 1408 Franklin Street.

Testimony from individuals will be taken after those who signed up to testify for the September hearing speak.

Because of the heavy response to changes proposed for the 20-year growth plan, at least two additional hearings are expected to be held this month.

After hearings before the county Planning Commission are completed, the commission will forward its recommendations to the board of Clark County Commissioners.

For further information, call the county's Long Range Planning Division, 397-2375, extension 4993.
