Library board to reexamine scope and boundaries of failed bond issue

While no plan was developed to resubmit the Fort Vancouver Regional Library District's failed $48 million March 9 bond issue to voters, the library's board of trustees discussed reexamining the scope of the expansion proposal and size of special library area during their regular public meeting last night in White Salmon.

Also, the board consensus was not to return to the voters in 2004. The failed proposal would have doubled the downtown Vancouver library and expanded the east Vancouver Cascade Park Library.

Peoples Community Credit Union giving fairgoers a free ride this fall

In a three-way deal among Peoples Community Credit Union, the Clark County Fair Association and C-TRAN, the credit union has pledged to underwrite $10,000 in fare costs in order that fairgoers may again get free bus transportation to and from the county fair.

Last year, the transit agency recorded 22,500 round-trip paid fares for fair patrons. Budget constraints in 2003 prevented C-TRAN from providing free rides.

Shuttle service will run from most transit centers, including downtown Vancouver, Vancouver Mall and Fishers Landing.

Parking at the fair is $5 per vehicle. The 2004 fair runs from Friday, Aug. 6, through Sunday, Aug. 15.
