Michael Allen Harrison headlines Saturday Chocolate Festival

Michael Allen Harrison, whose dozens of CD albums include Expressions of Chocolate, entertains at the piano at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 1, during the third annual Chocolate Festival produced by the Southwest Washington Medical Center Foundation.

"An absolute chocolate lover's paradise," is how foundation executive director Lynn Bohart describes the festival, which is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Skyview High School, 1300 NE 139th Street.

The increasingly popular event is at the top of this weekend's entertainment list for all ages.

"Chocolate, according to studies and contrary to popular belief, does not significantly contribute to ailments, such as acne, heart disease and tooth decay," Bohart says. "A recent review of 66 medical studies revealed that moderate chocolate consumption could be associated with reduced risk for cardiovascular disease."

There will be 65 vendor booths, and most vendors will be offering free samples of chocolate, ice cream and confections. In addition, craft and gift items are offered for sale.

Chocolate vendors, to drop a few names, are Moonstruck Chocolate Company, Rose's Deli & Bakery, Dagoba Chocolate, Harry & David, Bernard Callebaut Chocolate, Tulucci Chocolate, and Rocky Mountain Chocolate Company.

Adult admission is $6; children, 14 and under, and seniors, 55 and older, is $3. For further information, call 514-1863.

MSI Group of Companies moves to Port of Vancouver

The MSI Group of Companies is moving its distribution services from Columbia House Boulevard in Vancouver to a 48,000-square foot facility in the Port of Vancouver at 3201 NW Lower River Road.

According to MSI president Matthew Weiss, the move represents expansion. "We are running four businesses, every one of them on a growth curve," Weiss says.

The companies distribute recreational vehicle components and accessories, compact appliances, and hot and cold plumbing systems throughout North America.
