Rocketshop moves to Vancouvercenter

Rocketshop, a five-year-old Vancouver advertising, marketing and public relations company, has moved its offices from 110 W 13th Street to 6,000 square feet on the 6th floor of the new north tower of the Vancouvercenter on Washington Street in downtown Vancouver.

The company is affiliated with Barrington-Harvey, a United Kingdom-based public relations company.

The Vancouvercenter is a mixed-use development encompassing two square blocks in the heart of downtown. It has 194 apartments, 68 condominiums and 165,000 square feet of Class A office and retail space.

Libraries offering free income tax help

Free income tax assistance is available at most Fort Vancouver Regional Library locations. The assistance is provided through American Association of Retired Persons Tax Aide program and is co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

For further information, call the Vancouver Community Library, 695-1566, or any branch library. Additional information is available from the AARP by going to www.aarp.org/money/taxaide

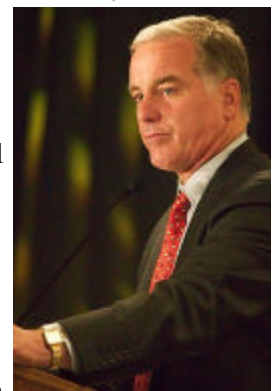

20th Avenue bridge construction to close I-205 at 134th Street

Construction on the 20th Avenue bridge crossing I-205 just north of NE 134th Street will result in 10 p.m.-to 5-a.m. closures of all northbound lanes Monday and Tuesday, April 11 and 12. On Thursday and Friday, April 15 and 15, all southbound lanes will be closed during the same nighttime hours.

Short detours will be established on either side of the NE 134th Avenue bridge.

So the editor said March 12, what he meant was April 12

Those disappointed at having missed Howard Dean, chair of the Democratic National Committee, who the Insider regretfully reported yesterday as speaking in Vancouver March 12, should get out their $11 and try to buy tickets to Dean's presentation in Skyview High School, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 12.

Howard Dean here April 12

Tickets, if still available can be bought through Safeway TicketWest centers.
